SUMMARY

I bring a new perspective to UX/UI design as my previous experience in other fields has allowed me to focus on user experience and think outside of the box. I am able to communicate effectively with others and use creativity and passion for design to create modern and fluid websites and applications for clients.

EXPERIENCE

Freelance

📅 2020 - Ongoing 📍 Kirkland, Washington

I was able to design websites and a mobile app for two clients who provided overall ideas and necessities for their application.

During the process of creating these websites and mobile apps, I found that communication between designers and clients was crucial, as even small design features could be looked at with a different vision by both parties. Focusing on an easy-to-use design while including all aspects of a client's vision was a helpful learning tool, and increased my ability to communicate with each client and understand what was truly important for the design when putting the focus on the user.
